W. C. Whitney's Armenia First in Filly Division—Eugenia Burch's Jerome landicap-Drake Succeeds With Bebadil and Trinity Bell-Big Crowd.

The Morris Park fall meeting opened yesterday with magnificent weather and a crowd of 18,000 persons. The programme, even though it included both parts of the rich Matron Stakes and the historic Jerome Handicap, was not up to the usual high standard prevailing at West Chester because of the absence of many of the star thoroughbreds in training. Two favorites and three second choices were victorious, while a startling reversal in form by Trinity Bell enabled John A. Drake and others to scorch the ring in the last race.

The Matron Stakes was, for the second time, run in two sections, the first, for colts and geldings over the Eclipse course, being the second event on the card. J. E. Madden scratched Adbell and added Panique, who, with The Minute Man, was a slight favorite at 6 to 5. The last time The Minute Man sported silk he was unable to finish in the money, being beaten by St. Valentine, Mineola and Sais. But in yesterday's race The Minute Man was a whirlwind, winning in a gallop by four lengths in 1:09%, only half a second slower than the best time ever made over the course by a two-year-old, the Keenes' Domino in 1893. Hippocrates was second all the way, beating Collector Jessup, 12 to 1, by a neck. Fuller put up a weak finish on

For the filly division of the Matron, E, R. Thomas's Lady Amelia was a hot favorite at 6 to 5. Lady Amelia, with Fuller up, showed in front as the field swept around the bend and rushed down to the dip. She had a siight advantage over For Luck, 8 to 1. as they reached the Withers crossing, where Hicks began to make his run on Armenia. Right up to the last sixteenth pole it looked as if the Thomas filly would win, but after that sne pegan to stop and the two others hooked up for a sensational whipping finish. They were so close together at the wire that the result was in doubt until the omeian ruling was made known, giving the verdict to Armenia by a nose, with for Luck two lengths in front of August Belmont's Beldame, 6 to 1, was a half length better than Lady in front of August Belmont's Beldame, et to 1, who was a nail length better than Lady Amelia.

There was an unusual mix-up over the winning numbers. Armenia was No. 4 on the programme, but the saddle cioth carried No. 3, while Mineoia, carded as No. 3, was just the reverse. When the judges ordered No. 4 to be hoisted there was a murmur of surprise on the part of those who were sure that Mineola had carried the day. The stewards promptly notified Trainer Rogers of the Whitney stable that he had been fined $50 for making the mistake. It was simply a shifting of saddle cloths.

The Jerome Handicap, in view of fast races, was a fizzle in point of numbers. It was for three-year-olds at a mile and five-gixteenths over the hill. Rostand and High Chancellor were withdrawn, leaving Eugenia Burch and Grey Friar to measure strides. The former, who gave five pounds actual weight to the St. George gelding, was a $ to 5 favorite, with 7 to 5 against the other. They ran like a team hitched to wagon up to the last furlong, Eugenia Burch, who had the rail, bearing out on her opponent all through the stretch. But Fuller never com-

They ran like a team hitched to wagon up to the last furlong, Eugenia Burch, who had the rail, bearing out on her opponent all through the stretch. But Fuller never committed an actual foul and drew away gradually as the wire was approached, Burch winning cleverly by a half length in 215—three-quarters of a second slower than Sir John's track record hung up in 1891. A big crowd surrounded the judges' stand, expecting to see Burns lodge a protest of foul, but there was nothing doing.

James Galway's Brigand, the 13 to 10 favorite in the first race, at seven furlongs on the Withers course, went to the barrier wearing blinkers for the first time in his career, Fuller told the starter that he was afraid the colt would not break, and he was right in his prediction, for when the gate was raised Brigand refused to get away with the others and never had a chance. Castallan, 9 to 5 second choice, won by a length and a half. The time was 1:271-5.

John A. Drake purchased Bobadil from H. M. Zlegler early in the day for $6,000, it is said, and proceeded to win him out in the fifth race for two-year-olds at six and a half furlongs on the Withers course. Bobadil was second choice at 7 to 5, John W. Schorr's Moharib being backed down to 9 to 10. JOHN A. DRAKE WINS $40,000. Cleans Up on Bobadil and Trinity Bell -E. R. Thomas Loses $25,000.

John A. Drake, according to the estimate of leading bookmakers, won close to $40,000 on two races at Morris Park yesterday afternoon. Mr. Drake bought Bobadil before the races for $6,000 and then bet $5,000 on the colt at 7 to 5 to win the fifth race. As Bobadil succeeded, Mr. Drake turned his attention to his mare Trinity Bell, in the sixth race, his commissioners getting down some of the money at 15 to 1. They wagered some more at 10 to 1, and then the price quickly fell to sixes, the Drake money in many instances being refused by the panic stricken On Trinity Bell's victory, Mr. Drake cleaned up a trifle more than $30,000, while cashed heavily on the same horse. John W Gates left for Chicago on Sunday, so that he lost a chance to get in one of his famous plunges on these two horses, but his son, Charley, was on hand and took part in the celebration.

plunges on these two norses, but his sol, Charley, was on hand and took part in the celebration.

E. R. Thomas was not so fortunate. He believed that his filly Lady Amelia had a mortgage on the second part of the Matron Stakes, and so did his partner, Alexander Shields, with the filly's former owner, Woodford Clay, nodding assent. So Mr. Thomas decided to win the filly out, having paid $17,500 for her. Although the price against her was 6 to 5, Mr. Thomas, it is stated, on excellent authority, sent a $25,000 commission into the ring, standing to win $30,000 on the result. When Lady Amelia finished outside of the money Mr. Thomas was visibly disturbed. He had a long argument in the paddock after the race with Shields, and it was said that Fuller's handling of the filly came in for some sharp criticism.

John E. Madden, Drake, Bennington and others in that set backed The Minute Man off the boards at the last momefit. When the bugle sounded the colt had been played down to 6 to 5, but on the way to the post this quotation fell to even money, while many layers rubbed the price entirely. "Pittsburg Phil" plunged on Eugenia Burch at 3 to 5, chiefly because the Ben Strome filly is trained by his brother, Bill Smith. The ring did not have an easy time by any means, as each winner produced long lines of successful players.

TURF GOSSIP AT MORRIS PARK. James Galway Says Brigand Will Not Wear Blinkers Again.

After the first race at Morris Park yes terday. James Galway, owner of Brigand told Starter Fitzgerald that the colt would never run in blinkers again. Mr. Galway said he was quite sure that Brigand was left at the post because of the blinkers, which the colt had never worn before. Just why the trainer used blinkers nobody seemed able to find out, for Brigand has always run kindly without them. Those who went to the track prepared to bet heavily on the Belvidere colt and who noted the change in his rigging stayed off.

The Matron Stakes is one of the richest twoyear-old events of the year. The first part of it yesterday was worth $11,365 gross, with $9,465 to the winner, while the second part was worth $8,375, of which $6,175 went to the winner. The whole value of the stakes was $19,740. Hicks rode his first race in the Whitney colors yesterday on Armenia.

Some excitement was caused in the grand stand just after the third race, when a woman dressed in black ran after a supposed betting

BELMONT STABLE FOR SALE

HORSES IN TRAINING AND YEAR-LINGS ON THE MARKET.

Chairman of the Jeckey Club Says He Has Not the Time to Devote to the Sport but That He Will Still Remain Affiliated With the Turf-Sale on Thursday Week.

August Belmont has decided to sell his entire racing stable, together with his yearlings, and will retire from active sport for the present. The sale will take place at Morris Park a week from next Thursday. Mr. Belmont gives as his reason for this action that he has not the time to devote to the running of his horses, but says that he will still be identified with the turf as chairman of the Jockey Club and the State Racing Commission. When the story was first circulated yesterday, Mr. Belmont was asked if it were true. He replied: "Yes, I have come to the conclusion that I have not the time to devote to a racing stable at present. I rarely have a chance to see my horses run, and I have so many corporate interests that require my attention that a big racing stable becomes a positive care to me instead of a pleasure." "I have not the slightest intention of severing my connection with the turf.

My duties as chairman of the Jockey Club and State Racing Commission and the attention I have to give to racing interests are quite sufficient in themselves. Besides this I have my breeding establishment, and just as soon as I can enjoy the pleasure of training my own horses again, I certainly will do so.

"While it is not the same. I nevertheless can have a great deal of pleasure in watching the careers of the horses which I bred, and as I never had a finer lot of yearlings have not the slightest misgiving about being well represented on the turf."

Mr. Belmont will retain his famous Nursry Stud, with its valuable sires and brood mares, and also a choice lot of weanlings. It is possible that his trainer, John J. Hyland, It is possible that his trainer, John J. Hyland, may have another engagement before long, while the regular stable jockey, John Bullman, will be free to sign with anybody at the end of the present season. It is understood that Mr. Belmont will sell only the racing qualities of the two-year-old fillies Beldame and Marjoram, who ran in the Matron Stakes yesterday, both of whom will ultimately be retired to the Belmont breeding establishment.

although they had a crippied team in the field and had to shift players to unfamiliar positions, the New Yorks, after a bad start, played a sandy uphill game and beat the Detroits. Kitson, Burns and McAllister made errors that were very beneficial for New York, and, in addition, the New Yorks alugged the bail full on the nose. In the fifth inning McFarland hit over the right field fence with two men on bases. In the seventh he circled the square on a throw by McAllister, which carried the ball so far from the scene of strife that McFarland had time to journey from plate to plate.

Griffith tried two new pitchers. The first, Quick, was hit hard. The second, Bliss, who went in in the fourth inning, showed splendid form and performed admirably. He used a low swing, and the Detroits could not gauge the onrush of the ball.

to Spare. PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28 .- The Kent count cricket team made a grand struggle to-day, and, playing a hard upbill game, succeeded in defeating Philadelphia, with seven wickets to spare. When play started this morning the wicket, after heavy rain, was in none too good condition for batting, and it was confidently expected that the nome team would prove easy victors. A strong wind blew across the ground, and this, too, was expected to help the bowlers.

The Kent batsmen, however, did some excellent work with the willow. C. J. Burnup, the captain of the team, was the hero of the occasion. He batted in magnificent style and successfully resisting all efforts to dislodge him, put on 94 not out. J. R. The 2:11 trot was won by Dr. Strong, the second choice. The race proved a big surprise, as McKinley was installed a hot favorite, but did not finish in the front three. The Michigan gelding was the victim of a series of hard luck mis haps, the worst being a hopeless send-off in the second heat. Westfield Club Championship-Balingall Wins in Ireland.

The issue was between Arthur Tuttle and James Woodward. Tuttle was 2 up at the ninth, but the match was all square on

The individual championship of the East Jersey Golf League has been fixed for Oct. 23 and 24, on an eighteen-hole course still to be selected. be selected.

J. B. Balingall won the South of Ireland championship last week at the Labinch Club, the Irish players as usual not being in it. The Irish women beat the world at golf, but so far the country has not produced a good golfer of the sterner sex. J. S. Worthington was the runner-up. good golfer of the sterner ton was the runner-up.

Boston, Sept. 28.—A. G. Lockwood won the championship of Massachusetts by defeating Hugo R. Johnstone of Myopia on the Myopia Hunt Club links to-day in a thirty-six-hole match. The score was 7 up and 5 to play.

six-hole match. The score was 7 up and 5 to play.

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—Final practice for the women's national championship, which starts to-morrow, developed the fact that the women are all on edge for the tournament. From indications the Western women have nothing to fear from the East, as, with the exception of Miss Fanny Osgood of Boston, who has averaged from 95 to 98 in practice, none of the other visiting competitors has shown to any great advantage. shown to any great advantage.

PETER D. MARTIN'S AUTO WINS. Twice Beats Machine of Same Make Owned

Payne Thompson, but on account of the ab-sence of Mr. Thompson from Newport the race was postponed until his return, and the much talked of event took place this afternoon. When the race was arranged it was said that a wager of $500 had been made on the result. At least that amount changed hands this afternoon, and the winner was Mr. Martin. of the same make and horse power, which is of the same make and horse power, which is ten. It was to Aquidneck Park that the ma-chines repaired this afternoon. Both machines were run by the chauffeurs, two races being held. The first was for five miles, and the track being narrow it was decided to hold a pursuit race. In this race Mr. Thompson's machine withdrew after it had completed the second mile, and Mr. Martin's machine won in a walkover.

The second race was at a mile, and this proved much more interesting. It was twice around the track, and the machines kept so well together that it was a question which would win, but when the time was taken it was found that the Martin machine had won by 8 seconds. It is understood that the race this after 400 has started a fever and that other races are to follow.

Don Jose Mendes of New Mexico Buying

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 28.—Don José Dolores Mendes, a millionaire horseman of Zamora, New Mexico, has purchased of dus Straus the two-year-old chestnut colt Hemp-Straus the two-year-old chestnut colt Hempstead, by Ingoldsby, dam Highfalutin the bay vearling filly by imp. Goldcrest, dam Relent the bay yearling filly by Handsel, dam Mother Bunch by Himvar, and from Mrs. E. L. Israel, Thorndale Stud, the yearling bay colt by Gog Foraker, dam Podaga. He also purchased of Charles Land a trotting bred mare and the five-year-old black trotting stallion Can't Tell. From John D. Creighton, Orchard Park Stud, he bought a three-year-old trotting mare and a yearling colt and filly, and from Tom McKee, Shelbyville, two trotting mares. The horses were shipped in a private car to-night and will be used for breeding purposes.

Athlete Ouinn Found to Be a Professions At the games of the New York A. C. last Saturday W. R. Quinn, who won the running Saturday W. R. Quinn, who won the running broad jump, was protested on the ground of professionalism. His prize was withheld, and when the registration committee investigated the case vesterday it was found that the jumper competed at the last Caledonian games. Quinn was declared ineligible for amateur competition. He figured on the programme as belonging to the New West Side A. C., but this was denied. First prize will now be awarded to M. Prinstein and second to J. J. McLaughlin, WITH THE POOTBALL PLAYERS.

NO SIGN YET OF MUCH CHANGE IN THE STYLE OF PLAY.

New Rules, However, of Benefit to the Spectators-Temptation That Quarter Backs Will Encounter When Bunning with the Ball-Practice of the Elevens Nothing indicative of any prot change in the style of play under the new rules has been brought out so far in the football games. There has been a marked ab-sence of enthusiasm over the changes and their possibilities, but on the other hand no great disapproval of them, the tendency of the college football generals being to feel their way under the new order of things and withhold judgment until the rules may be thoroughly tested. The new rules have een spoken of as favoring such and such a college, but as they go into effect at the same that the cleven that wins the championshi will do so primarily because it has the best material and secondly the best coaching and development of that material. In themselves, the new rules will play a small part in ultimate success as compared to the two factors named. Any of the leading colleges has sufficient football intelligence and time in which to work out the possibilities of the new rules to make its chances even with any other, provided it has material equally good. and better, provided it has better material The open play that the new rules were going to encourage has yet to put in an appear ance, and as for the way in which the new rules were going to discount avoirdupois it will be noticed that all the colleges are after as much weight as they can get. A big fast man is better than a little fast man But from the standpoint of the spectator there is cause for rejoicing over the new rules. It was remarked by those seated above the field of play at the Columbia-Wesleyan game that the absence of the more complicated formations back of the line scrimmage between the 25-yard lines made it easier for the spectators to follow the ball. It was much less trouble to tell who took the ball and to follow its movements. That is all right for the spectator but the team in possession of the ball will not relish the idea of its movements being clearer, that is to the other side. However, the spectator looking down is in a position to diagnose the play much better than the opposing team. When Columbia worked the quarter back run for a 60-yard advance last Saturday the Wesleyan men were clearly perplexed for a moment as to the whereabouts of the ball. The other Columbia backs fooled them by dashing against one wing while the quarter back sailed for the other extremity of the line, thus showing how strategy may play a part. made it easier for the spectators to follow

The usual reckless talk of "tricks" that are going to be sprung is in the air. Football tricks exist chieflyon paper. In discussing this subject, Harry Ely, Fordham's coach, had this to say: "There never have been but two tricks in football that amounted to a row of pins, and those two are such recognized tactical moves as to be firmly established features of the game. They are the criss-cross and the delayed pass. These two plays are so well known that they may be regarded as straight football which always has won and always will. I look for some confusion over this quarter back run. It is required that the quarter back go five yards to the side before crossing the line of scrimmage but if a quarter back sees an opening by the time he has gone three or four yards the temptation to take it will be almost too great to resist. The quarter backs are being coached to guage the distance according to the number of steps they take. This will not always be a reliable method of determining the distance, and with the strong temptation to dart into the first hole, there will be many a time when the quarter back will get through without having gone five yards before crossing the line of scrimmage. And he is likely to get away with it at times, too. It will take a pretty sharp-eved referee and one with fine judgment of distance to always tell whether or not the quarter back has gone the specified distance even with the aid of the vertical lines."

Columbia's game with Wesleyan, so it de-

Columbia's game with Wesleyan, so it developed yesterday, proved disastrous in its results. Arthur Warner, who was counted on as a star half, is out of the game for the season with a broken ligament in his knee. Smythe, the centre rush, has developed pneumonia, and he will also be unable to play again this fall. Nicoll, the big guard, has ceased playing because of parental objection. These losses remove three of Columbia's strong players and will seriously handicap the eleven. losses remove three of commons strong players and will seriously handicap the eleven. Columbia's practice yesterday was the hardest the team has had this season. The 'varsity played a hard twenty-five minute half with the scrub, and in that time scored two touch towns. The play was fast and snappy, and the 'varsity showed excellent aggressive qualities and also maintained an able defence. Jones made the first touchdown for the 'varsity after a thirty yard run. Then the 'varsity carried the ball steadily down the field almost entirely by line plunging, using tandems and tackles back for the most part. After a couple of scrimmages John Thorp ran ten yards for a score. The work on the whole was eminently satisfactory. Capt. Smith did not play, but his injured eye is rapidly improving and it is probable that he will be able to line up against Union next Saturday. Columbia will meet a team composed of alumni at the Polo Gounds to-morrow.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Sept. 28.—There were several changes in the make-up of the Harvard football squad this afternoon. Mills, who played right end last fall, was tried at full back on the second eleven and in a day or two will be placed at that position on the varsity. The 'varsity half backs are too fast for the men who have been at full back. Shea was dropped from left guard and Robinson was put in his place, while Marshall was put at right guard. Bowditch returned to Cambridge to-day, but did only light work. Clothier played at left end on the 'varsity to-day. This was his first day in the scrimmage, as he is suffering from a bad arm as the result of an automobile accident. Meier was at full back for the first time this year. He has been laid up for over a week. Nichols, the star half back of Saturday's game, was not on the field to-day on account of an injury he received on Saturday. In the scrimmage with the second team the 'varsity was able to score but a single touchdown, and that on a fluke.

PRINCEION, Sept. 28.—The Tigers are

PRINCETON, Sept. 28.—The Tigers are working hard to get in shape for the first game of the season with Swarthmore next Wednesday. There is a good deal of shifting around being done on the first team. Davis is pretty sure to hold one of the end positions, but it is doubtful who will occupy the other end. Crawford and Tooker, both last year players and strong men, are candidates for the place. Besides Dewitt two promising freshmen are candidates for tackle. These are Daub, captain of his team at Hill School, and Cooney, a burly player from Exeter.

ITHACA, N. Y., Sept. 28.—The Cornell training table was established to-day and eleven men were taken to it, as follows: Davitt, Hunt, Lawrence, Rice, Fetzger, Costello, Palmer, McAllister, Snider, Gordon and Sloat. The practice was very discouraging to-day, and Halliday, the full back, has been obliged to withdraw from the squad permanently on account of an injury.

Annapolis, Sept. 28.—Six of last year's football players have reported at the Naval Academy for practice. They are Soule captain of this season's eleven, who played end last year. Halsey, full back; Strassburger and Root, half backs, and Doherty and Reese of the Hustlers. The others are expected by to-morrow. Capt. Soule expressed himself as greatly pleased with the Providence, Sept. 28.—Brown's practice this afternoon was very encouraging. The first team lined up against a strong second team and scored two touchdowns in good time. Russ was shifted from end to tackle, and Scudder played end instead of quarter. Schwarts played quarter for the 'versity to-day and managed the team. It is now known definitely that Dave Fultz will be here soon to take charge of the team as head coach.

cerning the record-breaking trip from Cleve-land to Chicago in a touring car recently made by C. W. Gray, president of the Chicago Automobile Club. Mr. Gray was accompanied by J. A. Ellis of Chicago, and they lowered the best time made by expert and distance is 500 miles, and the best time made over it before Mr. Gray's trip was 58 hours. Mr. Gray did it in 52 hours.

Sept. 18, and their departure was marked by a downpour of rain. The storm continued until late in the afternoon. The roads for the first thirty miles of the trip were passable, but after that a series of mudholes were en-countered. It grew dark early that day, and while approaching rremont, Ohio, with lights full aglow, they saw a horse and buggy approaching on the left hand side of the road. They were on the right hand side, and they They were on the right hand side, and they consequently thought themselves safe from any mishap. But just as the horse neared the car he suddenly dashed off to the left, bringing the buggy forcibly against the front of the car and almost demolishing it. South Toledo was reached at noon the next day, and $3.50 o'clock found them at Butler, Ohio, where they rested for the night. The next day they reached the Chicago Automobile Club at 7.58 in the evening. The actual runing time of the trip was 34 hours. Eighteen hours were consumed in resting. Both Mr. Gray and Mr. Ellis are confident that the trip could be made in six hours less than it took them.

Standard Value Prizes for Olympic Games. The committee in charge of the Olympic games to be held in St. Louis next year has decided to award prizes of the full standard value. That is, first prize in each event will be worth $35. In order to stimulate an interest in long distance racing David R. Francis, president of the St. Louis Exposition, has offered a silver cup for the winner of the "Marathon race."
